About the Institution

Dr. Rajendra Prasad Central Agricultural University (RPCAU), Pusa, was established on 7th October 2016 after the conversion of Rajendra Agricultural University (established in 1970 by the Government of Bihar). The campus has a rich legacy dating back to 1905, when the Agricultural Research Institute and College was established at Pusa by the British Government to address food scarcity in India. This landmark institution laid the foundation for agricultural research and education in the country, and today it continues this proud tradition through its integrated focus on education, research, and extension in agriculture and allied sciences. The university comprises eight colleges offering undergraduate programs in 10 disciplines, master's in 31, and Ph.D. in 22 different subjects. With campuses at Pusa, Dholi, and Piprakothi, along with 18 Krishi Vigyan Kendras (KVKs) and four research stations, RPCAU provides a dynamic environment for quality education, innovative research, and sustainable agricultural development.
